DOCTORS CASE IS TAKEN FROM JURY

Circuit Court began session Wednesday and continues today, Thursday, with Judge C. H. Skinker presiding.

The case before the court today is the State of Missouri vs. L. A. Hudson, charged with felonious assault upon Lawrence Lawson who was shot at the home of Will Casteel in September. Hudson, a former Justice of Peace at N.angua, has been in jail here since the shooting.

In the J. O. Davis case against Dr. Macdonnell and Dr. Bruce, damage suit, the judge took the case from the jury, deciding the evidence against the defendants was insufficient and entry of nonsuit was entered upon the record, which gives the plaintiff a right to appeal.

The damage suit of Jess Muse against J. T. Holcomb was continued, the plaintiff to file cost bond by Nov. 30.

The same entry was made in the case of Chas. Tower vs. J. T. Holcomb, for damages.

The case of the City of Marshfield vs. Helen Brown, et. al., special tax bill, was continued to regular term.

The Farmers Exchange Bank vs. J. W. Jackson, on note, was continued.

The Farmers Exchange Bank vs. Chas. M. Jemes, on note, was transferred to Polk county by agreement.

RED CROSS ACTIVE IN THIS COUNTY

The winter now coming on brings indications that is will find many persons in need of assistance to keep them even fairly comfortable, even more than ever before. Webster county will be no exception to that rule, and the County Court and officers of the Webster County Red Cross Chapter have been for some time laying plans to relieve this situation as far as possible.

A car load of Red Cross flour, made from government wheat, is already in storage, also a large shipment of cloth, including prints, cotton flannel, sheeting, etc., has been received and some ready made garments have been ordered. These goods have a market value of nearly $1,200.00, and have all been secured through the National Red Cross, which has also given help to every other county in this and other states. This in addition to fifty barrels of flour distributed at Seymour during the past summer. Also the National Red Cross during the spring of 1931 furnished 100 bundles of garden seeds valued at more than $2.00 each that were distributed to all parts of Webster county as a part of the drought relief work.

The supplies now on hand ARE NOT FOR GENERAL DISTRIBUTION, but every part of Webster county will receive in proportion to the need. Applications for aid will be received by Red Cross representatives in each town in the county and the branch in these towns will care for the needy in their trade territory, caring for everyone in actual distress, particularly the children.

The local Red Cross Chapter is co-operating in every way with the County Court and the Webster County Health Council, in support of the County Health Nurse, and the cloth and garments have been placed under the care of Miss Elnore Hackmann, county nurse, who will distribute same through the Welfare Committees in the various communities. The Red Cross officials fully appreciate the work being done by Miss Hackmann and know much more can be accomplished with her assistance than could possiblv be done without a county nurse.

At Marshfield the flour will be distributed under the direction of the County Flour Committee, consisting of T. C. Bassore, chairman, J. C. Grizzel and J. E. Thompson. The cloth and garments will be
